General Comment

There are safe option trading techniques. I use selling covered calls options as a methodology to increase retirement income safely without the risk that people commonly think of when they hear the phrase "trading options". This trading technique helps me increase my monthly retirement income. This is not the risky option trading method that people commonly associate with speculators or high risk traders. It is a conservative income growing methodology. Please do not take that technique away from individuals within their retirements accounts. Thank you
